… with technical details

Controlled rain drainage

weinor makes sure that you never get caught out in the rain. An intelligent water drainage construction guides the rain along the guttering, through the post and downwards.

The small fabric safety shield also provides for reliable water drainage with sideways gutters. A further benefit: the aluminium fabric safety shield is designed so that the noise made by the raindrops is kept as low as possible.

Simple electrical connection

Leads can be installed via the guttering and post. This means add-on products such as radiant heaters, garden lighting or water pumps can be supplied with electricity easily.
